"PIRATE" SUB TRAPPED

Identification Of Craft Promises Embarrassment For Nation Involved

By IRVING B. PFLAUM
United Press Staff Correspondent
MADRID (UP)—Loyalist deep sea divers were reported working feverishly today to release the crew of a "pirate" submarine trapped at the bottom of the Mediterranean off the Cartagena naval base.

Government officials refused to confirm or deny the report, circulated by the Febus (Spanish) News Agency, but it was known that attaches of the Cartagena naval base had been investigating oil pools on the sea surface since Friday.

The Febus Agency reported at least some members of the submarine's crew still were alive, that efforts to raise the vessel had failed and that its supply of oxygen seemed to be running low.

It was reported that some officials thought the trapped sub might be the one which attacked the British destroyer Havock off the coast on September 1.

The British warships dropped several depth bombs and oil was seen rising to the surface. British authorities said then, however, that there was no indication a submarine had been destroyed or incapacitated. The Havock dropped seven depth bombs. Depth bombs are expensive and it was believed that she had a definite target for them.

Should the submarine crew be saved and the nationality of the "pirate" vessel determined, it was said, it would be extremely embarrassing for the nation involved.

"Miss America" Takes Walk

Beauty Contest Winner Spurns Vaudeville Contract, Test For Hollywood Films

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—Promoters of the Miss America Beauty Pageant had a lot of grief but no Miss America today.

Blonde Bette Cooper, 17-year-old Hackettstown, N. J., school girl, who won the title Saturday night, packed her bags and went home, renouncing:

1. A five-day contract for appearances on the steel pier, a local amusement place.
2. An airplane trip to Hollywood for a screen test.
3. A six-weeks' vaudeville contract.
4. A $1,000 Persian lamb coat.

The promoters were dismayed, for it was the first time that a winner had walked out on them.

Her father, Le Brun Cooper, explained: "This work is too strenuous for Bette. She is not the type of girl to appear in vaudeville. Her mother and I want her to finish school first."

600,000 VISITORS AT STATE FAIR

Exposition Receipts Gain Despite Attendance Drop; 1938 Dates Selected

SACRAMENTO (UP)—California state fair officials, pleased with a $20,000 increase in cash receipts, despite decreased attendance at the 1937 show, today turned their attention to plans for next year.

The 1937 fair, 83rd in the state's history, closed last night. Approximately 600,000 persons passed through the turnstiles.

In 1938, directors said, the fair will again open on a Friday, September 2, and will run ten days. The slump in attendance was attributed partially to elimination of $5 patron tickets.

Participants in the horse show broke camp, saddened by the death of C. W. Bowers, 70, nationally known draft horse breeder and trainer.

The veteran horseman died late yesterday from injuries suffered in a fall from an exhibition wagon.

GEORGETOWN NATIVE TAKEN SUNDAY AT HOSPITAL IN SACRAMENTO

Mrs. Laura Frances Woodson, 61, a native of Georgetown and a former resident of Placerville, passed away on Sunday at a Sacramento hospital where she had been a patient for several weeks. Mrs. Woodson was the only sister of Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis, of Placerville.

She spent her early childhood at Spanish Flat, this county, and came to Placerville with her parents as a young girl. Her husband, Walter W. Woodson, was engaged in lumbering and the couple made their home in this city for several years, moving subsequently to other sections of the state and settling in Sacramento about twelve years ago.

The funeral services will be at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon from the M. O'Keefe mortuary chapel. Rev. Harold Morehouse will conduct the services. Burial will be at Union cemetery.

In addition to her husband and the brother mentioned, Mrs. Woodson is survived by two nephews, Dr. Thomas Lewis of San Francisco, and Albert Lewis of Berkeley; and by three cousins, Maryjane Dart of Ukiah, William Dryden of Willits, and Robert Dryden of San Rafael.

We are glad to report that Ronard Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Dixon, of Rescue, who was hurt in a fire truck wreck several weeks ago, is continuing favorably in recovery from the effects of his injuries. Ronard is at home.

State Labor Meet Opens

Bitter Battle On Cio Issue Expected To Break At Tuesday Morning Session

LONG BEACH (UP)—Delegates opened the 38th convention of the State Federation of Labor today, prepared for a bitter battle over CIO affiliated unions.

It was expected that the fight would reach the convention floor tomorrow when officers call for a vote of allegiance to the A. F. of L.

Among 850 delegates were many sent by unions affiliated with the rival CIO. Plans had been made to reject credentials of any CIO representatives. More than 500 credentials had been approved this morning, with no refusals.

An outburst was feared among the CIO longshoremen, for the first time convening under the banner of the J. L. Lewis organization after years of A. F. of L. membership. All day yesterday, Federation officers sat shirt-sleeved in hotel rooms laying strategy.

Threatening Letters Traced To Former Federal Marshal By Government Agents

BOSTON (UP)—Morton D. Wainwright, 72-year-old former U. S. marshal, collapsed today when a federal judge sentenced him to one year in jail for threatening the life of President Roosevelt.

"I'm a nervous wreck and I can't stand it," he screamed. "I nearly died over there in Cambridge jail. Oh, God, save me! I can't stand it."

Wainwright was arrested July 1 after secret service agents had traced to him several threatening letters received at the White House.

In asking sentence, the prosecutor told Judge Hugh D. McClellan that although this was the defendant's first offense it was a grave one.

18 Pigs In One Litter Born In Oklahoma

SAYRE, Okla. (UP)—Statisticians examined records today in an effort to determine if the 18 pigs born in one litter near here last week did not set a new record for a single litter.

If 18 pigs failed to exceed the record it must have been close, decided Sidney Hussey, members of the Sayre Future Farmers of American organization.

Lloyd Rich, high school vocational agricultural teacher, said it was the biggest litter he had ever known.

Robert Potter, who graduated from our high school a year ago and spent last year at New Mexico Military Institute, will enroll this year at the Boeing School of Aviation. Bob, evidently, got so much experience catapulting from the back of horses, that he figured he'd take up aviation and no foolin'. He was here Sunday visiting friends.

U. S. MISSION BOMBED

President Roosevelt Returns To Washington Tuesday; Cuts Vacation Short

HONG KONG (UP)—Japanese planes dropped six bombs on the compound of the American Seventh Day Adventist mission at Waichow in Kwantung province, refugees said today.

Two Chinese mission staff members were wounded and the damage caused by the bombs amounted to approximately $3,000. P. V. Thomas, head of the mission, reported.

He said that the planes dived so low that they should have been able to see easily the two large American flags on the mission premises.

The bombing, he said, appeared to be deliberate. The nearest military post, a mile and a half away, also was bombed, he said. The mission hospital barely escaped the bombing, he said. The attack threw the patients into a panic. All of them, except the worst cases, fled.

CHOLERA REPORT

Minnesota Will Lose Mortality Record

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Early rise in Minnesota's death rate, now lowest in the U. S., was forecast by Prof. Calvin F. Schmid, assistant professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota.

Schmid, in his book, "Mortality Trends in the State of Minnesota," stated that the upward trend was not alarming.

It merely reflects the growing proportion of the state's population.

Minnesota's infant mortality rate is the lowest in the country, Schmid says. An average of 4.5 mothers die out of every 1,000 live births in the state.

Oregon Turkey Crop Short This Year

VICIOUS CIRCLE

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

If you are interested in people who are doing things you will have the opportunity of hearing some of them speak this winter. Some of the visiting celebrities will lecture in Sacramento, others in Oakland and San Francisco and some in all three cities. Dr. Victor Heiser begins the series in October with more adventures that he did not include in his book. Another October speaker will be the charming Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who will give a colorful illustrated lecture on "Life in the Philippine Islands."

In November you can hear Gordon B. Enders the noted explorer of Tibet. The Honorable Ruth Bryan Owen, America's first woman diplomat will also lecture in November. Those who have heard her before are eager to hear her again, so that should be a good recommendation. We have heard Louis Anspacher, the philosopher-dramatist, from New York and we know how he can hold an audience spell-bound. Another November attraction will be the lovely star of motion pictures Doris Kenyon in her "Lyric Silhouettes" which are pantomime songs in six languages. And finally, the witty Mrs. Forbes-Robertson Hale will discuss the momentous question "Can the Modern Woman Afford a Husband?"

Lewis Browne, who has the double distinction of writing well and talking eloquently comes in December.

The German Vicki Baum who became famous with her book "Grand Hotel" comes in January. One of her lectures is called "Why Be Afraid?" It sounds as though she has gone in for the new psychology. A writer of whom we are especially fond and who exemplifies the best American traditions will come in January. She is Mary Ellen one travels nowadays. But just what does travel do for a lot of people? All that some of them can talk about after a trip is the mileage they covered from one town to the next, the accommodations at the auto camps, the toughness of the steaks they ate and what they had to pay for them. Travelers do not always bring back the sunshine of Florida and the elegance of New York, to paraphrase Mr. Curtis. "I begin to suspect," he writes, "that a man must have Italy and Greece in his heart and mind if he would ever see them with his eyes." But after all, this may be a sour grapes kind of comfort for those of us who have to stay at home.

And while on the subject of travel, may we recommend a very new book on modern Turkey, "Allah Dethroned," written by the talented German girl, Lilo Linke? You may remember that the Turkish Empire which was called "the sick man of Europe," collapsed at the end of the Great War. The new Turkey consists of Thrace and Istanbul (Constantinople) and the large peninsula of Asia Minor with Angora as the capital. Miss Linke's title to her book is derived from the fact that today religion in Turkey is a private affair. Traveling by lorry, by freighter and by donkey, Miss Linke learned to know the people intimately and she shows their struggle between the old world and the new, as the heavy bullocks harnessed with wooden yokes on the streets and in some of the homes pictures of the movie stars on the walls. One young Turkish movie fan (masculine) treasured five pictures of Ginger Rogers. Lilo Linke has a shrewd eye and a warm heart. The combination results in a book that provides excellent reading.

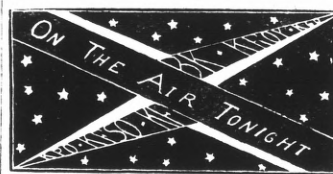

But to get back to George Curtis. He writes delightfully about castles in Spain. We have the world's record for storing unuseable information in our noodle but somehow, though we build castles in Spain, we do not know how they came to be. If any of our readers know how the phrase originated, we hope they will share the information with us.

"Thief In Attic" Turns Out To Be Rat

PAWHUSKA, Okla. (UP)—Police recently hurried to a residence. The person who had called them said, "Thieves are in the attic."

Patrolmen climbed to the attic and found—a fat, gray rat calmly crunching walnuts left by a previous tenant.

TERRORS OF JUNGLE BEING EXTERMINATED BY OVER-HUNTING

LONDON (UP)—Unless protective measures are taken, the eventual extinction of many of the larger African animals is inevitable, the Animal Year Book, just published by the University of London Animal Welfare Society, declares.

The slaughter of the hippopotamus during the last 50 years has been appalling, it is stated, and the animal has practically disappeared except in a few haunts on some of the large African lakes and rivers.

The elephant, although in no immediate danger, has been largely exterminated in many parts of Africa. The total number killed annually is approximately 36,500, the Year Book estimates.

Other animals facing extinction are the giraffe, the white rhinoceros and the sable antelope.

Buttons, Five Trunks Full, Just A Hobby

RACINE, Wis. (UP)—Henry Trinke, a fireman, collects stamps, coins, wall-paper, and swords, but his buttons are his pride and joy.

The button collection, Trinke said, is one of the largest in the world.

Trinke has five trunksloads of them. They date back more than 500 years. He has carved buttons, jewelry buttons, bone buttons, army buttons, navy buttons, political buttons, and others too numerous to mention.

Among his proudest possessions Trinke lists a gold button once worn by Martha Washington. His collection of union buttons came, not from union suits, as the casual observer might expect, but from every known union in the nation.

Spruce Grouse Revival In Michigan Seen

LANSING, Mich. (UP)—Discovery of a nest of the rare spruce grouse with seven chicks in Pigeon River state forest northeast of Gaylord, Michigan, has led game officials to believe the bird may be re-establishing itself in northern counties of Michigan's lower peninsula, P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director, said.

Although a few spruce grouse, or "fool hens," can be found in the state's upper peninsula, they were thought to be extinct in the lower peninsula when several pairs were released in Wilderness state park two years ago. Their presence in Pigeon River state forest indicates they are "taking hold and spreading out," Hoffmaster said.

JOE E. BROWN NEWS-HAWK IN MONDAY FILM AT EMPIRE

An airplane that virtually flies itself, a newspaper editor who unwittingly scoops himself, and a swindler who unconsciously cheats himself, are some of the amazing ingredients that contribute to the fun in Joe E. Brown's latest laugh-vehicle, "Riding on Air," which closes tonight at the Empire Theater.

As Elmer Lane, a small town newspaper editor, Joe E. Brown proves himself a sensational news sleuth—for his rival papers—but when it comes to capturing a band of air smugglers with a projected radio beam, he startles the world and baffles a would-be embezzler.

Produced by David L. Loew, and based on Richard Macaulay's popular Saturday Evening Post stories, "Riding on Air" features Guy Kibbee, Florence Rice, Vinton Haworth, Harlan Briggs and Anthony Nace in the supporting cast. Edward Sedgwick directed the RKO Radio release.

C. C. Herbert, forest road superintendent, left Monday for Lake Valley and Lumbeyard ranger districts.

HELP FOR CHINA?—Persistent reports in Nanking, China, were to the effect that Soviet Russia would soon consider Outer Mongolia an integral part of the Chinese Republic. In that event, Russia presumably would be bound to aid China in the war against Japan, because of the Chinese-Russian non-aggression pact. The Russian anti-aircraft gunners shown above, a Siberian unit on the Amur river, might be called into real action.

SCIENCE INVESTIGATES LIFE ON ISLE IN GRAND CANYON

By NED RUSSELL

United Press Staff Correspondent

To the Editor:

Former President Hoover urges a national convention of Republicans. Affirmative leadership of this kind should be met in like spirit. Instead we have inexcusable sidestepping. Only out of the searching debate of a national convention can we Republicans fit ourselves, spiritually and intellectually to meet the New Deal. We have failed in this to date, because we have not yet met the challenge of the du Pont-Michelson smear.

The New Deal was founded on the smear. It continues to harp on it. Out of the smear it has built its scarecrows and on the smear based its "emergencies." The smear was not merely an attack on Mr. Hoover. It went to the very heart of the Republican record. Only after we have met this challenge, therefore, can we rededicate ourselves to Republican principles and refresh ourselves at the fountain of Republican history.

Democracies demand clean-cut issues. That New Deal is leading America to the treadmill of forced labor under the collective state. The place for the Republican party is at the very opposite to such a program. Mr. Farley says the Republican party is dead, but 17,000,000 voters in 1936 signed a vehement protest against such a verdict, furnishing glorious evidence of vitality. In these 17,000,000 we find the bone and sinew of Republicans. A political party with a record of achievement as great as that of the Republican party never dies—unless it dies at the top. What we now need, therefore, is opportunity for debate—out of which will come a new grasp of principles and a vigorous fighting energy.

The mask has now been torn from the design behind the "objectives" of the New Deal. Issues are clearer, and a national convention is all important in giving Republicans the stimulation and inspiration needed in planning the struggle for the preservation of America. It is time that the rank and file of the Republican party expresses itself, and I hope this letter will stimulate other Republicans to write the editor of this newspaper, giving their views.

DIM HEADLIGHT LAW MAY HELP TO REDUCE NIGHT CRASHES

SACRAMENTO—Dimming of headlights at night has passed out of the courtesy class and has become mandatory, according to Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles, who points out that under the provisions of a law that has just become effective, motorists are required to lower their headlights when passing.

"This law," Ingels declared, "should materially reduce the hazard of night driving, which in recent years has increased steadily. Formerly this was a courtesy that the careful motorists extended to others both for his and their protection. He did this because he was a careful driver. Now it is required of him and the California Highway Patrol has been instructed to see that the provisions of this law are carried out."

With dimmed headlights, the director said, the driver will not have as much "distant road light" and should reduce the speed of his vehicle to a rate at which he can safely control his car.

"In this connection," he continued, "the courts have held that if a person cannot see ahead, due to glaring lights, that person is responsible for reducing the speed of his vehicle to a speed at

AVIATION RECRUITS HELD "TOO SMART" AND ARE TURNED DOWN

SYDNEY, N. S. W. (UP)—The City of Sydney, squadron of the Royal Australian Air Force has an inverted recruiting problem—recruits are too many and too good.

More than 800 men between the ages of 18 and 35 applied on one day for commissions in the non-flying branches of the squadron. Many of them were turned down because their qualifications were too high.

"Bachelors of Science and other men with equally high qualifications were coming forward to enlist as airmen," the commanding officer said. "It would obviously be uneconomic to accept them in that capacity."

ROOSEVELT RETURNS

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (P)—President Roosevelt abruptly ends an 18-day vacation tonight when he returns to Washington to guide the government on a strict neutrality policy designed to "keep this country out of war" through the present European and Far Eastern crises.

Mr. Roosevelt, traveling by special train, will arrive at the White House tomorrow morning, one day earlier than he originally planned. Indications were that he might cancel his tentative plans for a western trip later this month for the same reason that he shortened his stay here—the acute international situation.

WOOLGROWERS MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO NOV. 18-19

SAN FRANCISCO—The 77th annual convention of the California Wool Growers Association will be held here at the Palace Hotel, November 18th and 19th, according to an announcement just made by Frank C. Clarke of Laytonville, Mendocino County, president of the organization.

The decline in price of substitutes for wool in the textile industry will bring to the fore in the discussions of the coming convention the necessity for consumer protective legislation against shoddy materials sold under the guise of being "all wool."

L. A. Manor of Williams, Colusa County, is vice-president of the Wool Growers Association and W. P. Wing, secretary-manager.

Fruit House Worker Is Hurt As Box Falls

Bert Smith, an employee of the Placerville Fruit Growers' Association, was removed to Placerville Sanatorium shortly after three o'clock Monday afternoon for an x-ray examination of his back.

Smith was hit in the back by a falling pear box and seemed to be suffering chiefly from shock. He was able to walk downstairs to the ambulance.

MORRISTOWN, Ariz. (P)—A "flying cow" caused an automobile accident last night that sent a man and his wife to a hospital. The cow was struck by a heavy bus and literally flew through the air and landed on a car, forcing it to smash into a cutbank. Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Maize, Phoenix, were treated for slight injuries. The bus was disabled temporarily and the cow was killed.

Autopsy Ordered In Death Of Airline Stewardess

HOLLYWOOD (P)—The coroner's office ordered an autopsy today to search for traces of poison in the body of Cecilia Gilligan, 25, chief stewardess of Western Air Express, who was found dead Saturday in a fashionable movietown hotel.

Her body, reclined in a natural position on a bed and there was no evidence in her room of suicide, but her strange behavior prompted the investigation.

"Fagin" Suspect Held By Los Angeles Police

LOS ANGELES (P)—Alfred Merritt, 34, who police said admitted 49 previous arrests, made it an even 50 today when detectives took him into custody on suspicion he was a modern Fagin who trained youthful "pupils" for careers in crime.

BUICK SPENDS $10,000,000 IN PREPARING FOR NEW MODELS

FLINT, Mich. (P)—At a press preview of the 1938 Buick cars, attended by more than 200 newspapermen from throughout the country, Harlow H. Curtice, president of this General Motors division, Monday announced that Buick has expended more than $10,000,000 in further plant expansion and retooling for the new cars, looking to increased capacity for next year.

The expenditure comes on top of more than $30,000,000 spent in the Flint factories during the past three years in a sweeping program of expansion and modernization.

"I think you will appreciate my optimism," Mr. Curtice said, "when I tell you that in addition to thirty millions appropriated over the past three years for plant expansion and modernization, $10,000,000 more has been expended for tooling for the 1938 product and further expanding our facilities here at Flint to supply the needs of our Linden, N. J., and Los Angeles assembly plants. As a result, we now have an established capacity of 300,000 units a year.

"This is a substantial increase over the capacity of former years when Buick was enjoying its greatest share of the industry's business.

"It is my belief that it is entirely justified not only due to the product and its growing popularity, but also due to the considerably expended and successful dealer organization. Our dealer organization is by far the best and strongest of any in the industry."

Mr. Curtice said that the trend seems to point to another exceptionally good year for the automobile industry.

Child-Bride Killed In Automobile Crash

FLORENCE, Ariz. (P)—A 15-year-old child bride was killed in an automobile accident early yesterday just 15 minutes after she eloped with a 19-year-old youth.

'Phone Girls Have No Illusions About Men

CALCUTTA (P)—If you want a patient, polite wife, marry a telephone girl.

This is the advice given by "Miss Operator," who has just broadcast an address entitled "At Your Service," from the Calcutta station of the All-India Radio.

Justifying her claim, "Miss Operator" said:

"The telephone girl has no illusions about men. After two or three years at a telephone exchange she has dealt with men of all sorts, in all manner of moods. She can tell by the tone of your voice whether you have just had a rise in salary or whether you are suffering from the 'morning after' feeling. Whatever your mood, she has learned always to be patient and polite."

Current Should Be Named For California, Said

LA JOLLA (P)—Dr. H. U. Sverdrup, director of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography, wants the Pacific Sea stream, now called Japanese Current, to be labelled the California Current. "It should be so called," he says, "because it shows a number of features which are typical of the region. Since the water flows toward the south, it comes from higher altitudes and it is cold."

Constable Surrenders To Face Girl's Charge

SACRAMENTO (P)—Harold Ohlendorf, 26, Brighton township constable, was held in jail here today on charges of rape, filed by a 14-year-old high school girl.

The constable appeared voluntarily after a warrant was issued Saturday for his arrest, but refused to discuss the accusations.

In a statement to the district attorney, the girl accused Ohlendorf of improper relations following a meeting in a nearby roadhouse.

cus but no casualties were reported. Most serious of the brush fires was burning near Lata Loma, in the San Bernardino foothills, with CCC men from San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties slowly cutting it off. The acres of brush and small trees were burned over in Los Padres National Forest, while a blaze that for a time threatened several upper Ojai Valley ranches was brought under control this morning. Fires at Lytle Creek and Islip mountain were burning themselves out. Temperatures in some Southern California points were:

Gas Process Aids Nature In Ripening Fruit

ST. PAUL, Minn. (P)—A process for ripening fruits in half the usual time has been announced by Dr. R. B. Harvey, plant physiologist at the University of Minnesota farm.

The process—using ethylene, a non-poisonous, odorless gas—not only speeds ripening, but "imparts a sweeter flavor to the fruit so treated," Harvey said. The process benefits growers in two ways—he said—gives evenly ripened fruit for early marketing at higher prices, insures sounder products.

The birth of a son, Gery Ellison Cooper, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Cooper, of Placerville, on September 11, was of record Monday at the office of Recorder Charles Marsh.

William Higgins, 39, was lodged in the county jail Monday to serve a jail term of seven and one-half days, following his arrest Sunday for violating the terms of a suspended sentence in city court for drunkenness.
